News of Agreement to Make Peace Creates Good Impression Among Troops.

(By Associated Press.)
GUNSHU PASS, Sept. 2.—The news of peace as communicated in M. Witte's message to Emperor Nicholas was communicated to the troops to-day and promunicated to the froops to-day and produced a good impression. The possibility of soon returning home awakened sincere feelings of gratitude toward M. Witte, who has so well defended the honor and dignity of Russian in the Far East, saving at the same time tens of thousands of Russian lives particularly valuable to the country at the moment of the awakening to better things. The hope was expressed that the peace will be lasting and satisfactory to both combatants. The opinion here is that the ending of the eighteen months' warso unfortunate to Russia, was due to M. Witte's energy and firmness.

How to Get Well.

Every organ of the body is directly connected with the brain by nerves. The nerve cells in the brain generate nerve force—power—and send it to the organ through these nerves, and this nerve-force gives life and action. The organs work perfectly when there is sufficient nerve power. Lack of nerve force weakens the action of an organ and it works imperfectly—becomes sick.

Two-thirds of all sickness is thus due to weak or deranged nerves; it is therefore advisa-ble to take Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, because it makes Czar's Proclamation for National Assembly Receives Warm Praise Now.

CRITICISM NO LONGER HEARD

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 3, 1:24 A. M .-Though the new national assembly during the first days of the issuance of the Emperor's maifesto was given more of unfavorable criticism than of praise and the Russian press, through ignorance, took a far less favorable view of the new constitution than did the foreign newspapers, the value of the assembly, the extent of its plans and the long step forward it marks in the path of reform are now becoming generally recognized throughout the empire.

A flood of addresses of thanks is compling in from all classes and from all regions, the city downas leading the list, though the urban population was supposed to have been placed at a considerable disadvantage to the peasants and the nobility under the electoral arrangement. A number of doumas have couched their addresses with requests for freedom of speech and of the press, but only in a few cities were addresses rejected.

The project, the provisions of which are attentied of comprehension by people not Though the new national assembly durdom of speech and of the press, hut only, in a few cities were addresses rejected.

The project, the provisions of which are difficult of comprehension by people not experienced in parliamentary institutions, is being taken up for careful study and consideration, and because of this, much of the adverse criticism is wearing away and the talk of a boycett of the assembly by the liberals is no longer heard. Public discussion of the assembly by the liberals is no longer heard. Public discussion of the assembly and the steps that are being taken to put it into effect are bringing to light minor defects and impracticable provisions in the project and the ministry of the interior is busy arranging questions and furnishing interpretations on doubtful points. It is apparent that a number of modifications, either by imperial direction or by the doumn itself, will be necessary before the assembly becomes a practical working body.

The elegtions in the entire empire must be ended by December 16th, Since the work of canvassing the vote and the journeys of distant reoresentatives to St. Petersburg will occupy the month before the date iixed by the Emperor for convening the assembly, the work of preparation of electoral lists is actively under way in the various effices, and in the country districts, and telegraphic orders have been sent to the dilatory heads of a number of governments to proceed immediately with the work.

The project is received with satisfaction by the Jews in Russia, primarily because it is the first general law promulgated in Russia in thirty years, not containing a clause discriminating against Jews as a race. This is more than they had hoped for, They are granted political rights under the douma equal to those of all the other races of the empire, but they are still without a large proportion of the civil rights enjoyed by other Russians.

LOTT CAREY CONVENTION OVER

Last Business Session Held Yesterday-Get After Booker Washington.

Taken for a White

Lott Carey Mission Convention of Negro Baplists has concluded its business, and the session to-day will be devoted to religious services, with a mass-meeting at the First African Baptist Church this afterndon. The next session will be held in Portsmouth.

Rev. W. J. Howard, D. D., called the convention to order and presided during the morning session. After an impressive song and prayer service, he said that it was the desire of the presiding officer that the delegates turn their attention to the business, this being the hast day.

"I am, indeed, proud of the manner in which you have transacted the business of this body. It shows that we are making some progress, and I trust that wo will continue to make it. The negro must turn his attention to his own development, and if he falls to do his part, then his future is dark. Religion, education and money in possession of the negro will lift him up."

"The negro is a part of this American government," said the Rev. Dr. Spiller, of Pittsburg, "and he needs the same kind of education that is needed by any other American cittzen. You always hear them talk about the kind of education for the negro and no one else, and this is because the negro is the only man that is in competition with the white man. The Chinaman seeks to wash clothes, sell tea; the Indian to roam the forests, but the American negro declares that he wants the same thing that the white man wants. Hell is full of negroes and white men; heaven is full of negroes and white men; white men and negroes alone have been to represent his government in foreign fields. Th

After Booker Washington.

After Booker Washington.

At this point Booker T. Washington came in for a share of the discussion. Rev. W. G. Alexander, D. D., of Baltimore, said that his sentiments had been voiced in the previous speaker, and he would not attempt to follow him. "This universal doctrine of industrial education for the negro was annunclated by Booker T. Washington. He wants the negro to be taught to work, but if you will notice, it takes his own children and sends them to Europe and to the best white schools in America, where they can get the best training. He should practice his own doctrine. I do not object to industrial education for the negro, but let him take it from choice. The white people are trying to turn all negro schools into manual training schools. They would take the Union University, of this city, and turn it into a manual training school if they could."

Rev. Z. B. Lewis was the next to break out. "I don't bother much about Booker T. Washington, for the white folks gave him to us after he made that speech in Atlanta, Ga., during the exposition, 'Let Down Your Buckets Where You Ara.' Washington made us all hewers of woed and drawers of water the rest of our days. Of course, we must accept him as our leader, because the white folks say 80, and if the white folks should After Booker Washington.

guards. Dr. Horton said (that there was not an Italian in fine hospital at this time. As to the fever situation itself, he said it was improving, there being only two cases reported to-day.

Favorable reports of the yellow fever situation, both in New Orleans and in the country, were again the rule to-day, and, with increasing evidence that all danger of a repetition of the devastating epidemic of 1878 is past, public alarm is slowly disappearing in the rural regions. The appearance of sporadic cases of fever at Vicksburg has had a helpful effect in New Orleans, because it made Vicksburg realize that the danger does not lie in infection of freight.

Dr. White to-day said that hereafter Natchez and Vicksburg would accept marine hospital certificates for freight and for passengers. and drawers of water the rest of our days. Of course, we must accept him as our leader, because the white folks say so, and if the white folks should say to-day that I can't stay here, I must look to the Lord and be dismissed. The white people admire that negro who will tell the negro to get his pick and shovel, and throw his pen over the back fence in the garden. They say that Booker Washington talks like a white man when he tells the negro to do these things."

Rev. W. R. Tollver, of Greensboro, caused a little breeze by saying that there were some negroes who did a lot of talking, yet they were ashamed of their race and would get away if they their race and would get away if they could.

"Negroes have been mistaken for white people and told to ride in the places designated for whites, and liey have been gind of the opportunity without any protest. This shows how anxious they are to get away from us. You could not mistake a white man for a negro without having him resent it, and I am of the opinion that we should do the self-same thing. I am proud of my big feet, flat nose and carly hair, and would not get away from it if I could."

The closing session of the convention will be held to-night. Rev. William M. Alexander, of Baltimore, will preach the closing sermon. There will preach the sionary mass-meeting this afternor in the First African Baptist Church.

Mr. I. Short, Sheriff of Davies County, Ky., writes: "Hot Springs' and Physicians had failed to benefit, but one bottle of Payne's Quick Relief gave me instant relief."

Gentlemen:-For a great number of years I have been suffering with a painful and swollen ankle. Doctors disagreed about the origin of the trouble, but all advised trips to the springs. In consequence I visited not only the Hot Springs of Arkansas but also the various famous springs of Indiana and Kentucky. All availed nothing and I continued to suffer. I read of the wonderful results obtained in Owenshoro from the use of Payne's Quick Relief and I resolved to try it. I am happy to announce that after the very first application of this medicine I felt more genuine relief than from all of my trips to the springs. I most earnestly recommend Payne's Quick Relief to all who suffer pains. I. SHORT,

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

CHESTERFIELD, VA., September 2.—
Great disappointment was felt to-day by the members of the William B. Wooldinge Camp of Confederate Veterans of Chesterfield county over the failure of their plans for a big plenic and reunion of soidlers at Chesterfield Courthouse. Rain poured throughout the county for several hours during the night and early morning, swelling the creeks and branchess and making the roads like mill-ponds in places, and the weather continued threatening till past noon. The engagement with the Eagle Band of seventeen pieces was cancelled by 'phone, and the speech of Hon. William I, Clopton, which had been anticipated as the feature of the day, was postponed.

Scarcely more than a dozen people had assembled by midday, but before 2 o'clock something like two hundred people had gotten together in spite of the threatening clouds, and a grand dinner was spread before the forfunate comers. Captain John Llamb and Judge Gregory made patriotic speeches during the afternoon, but Judge Clopton's set speech on the history of the Confederate soldiers from Chesterfield county will be delivered later on in the year, on invitation today of the Wooldridge Camp and the Sons of the Confederacy and the Daughters' Camp.

Corrects Some Impressions Made
By Mr. Royall's Statement.

The appended statement made yesterday by Mr. L. C. Younger explains his connection with the Hancock-Electoral Board controversy:

Richmond, Va., Sept. 2, 1905.

"Mr. W. L. Royall, in his statement in this morning's Times-Dispatch, makes it appear as if my visit to his office was primarily to relate my conversation with Mr. Hancock, and to request that my name be given to the grand jury. I wish to correct such an impression. My with was in response to his letter asking if I would serve on the committee of fifty, and to ascertain the nature of the duties required. The Hancock conversation was related incidentially, and I idd not suggest my name being given to the grand jury. He said he would give my name to the grand jury, and I replied that I had, no objection to telling the grand jury anything I knew. I declined to allow the use of my name in giving the conversation to the newspaper.

The next morning he 'phoned to know if my name could be given to the papers and I again declined. Later a reporter called and asked for a statement, which I declined to make until assured positively that he knew I was the party alluded to by Mr. Royall in a previous interview published in the papers, and that my name would be mentioned anyway. I then dictated the statement which appeared in your yesterday's issue, so as to do injustice to no one. This statement gives the exact facts so far as my recollection goes. Kindly publish this, and oblige.

Richmond Other Half Dry.

A very remarkable rain storm visited Richmond on yesterday afternoon shortly after 3 o'clock. Without warning the heavens seemed to open, and for five minutes the downpour was almost like a cloud burst. When the rain ceased it was discovered that while the lower part of the city was as wet as Pittsylvania, that part above Ezghth Street was as dry as Nottoway county. The rain had used Eighth Street as a boundary line, and did not travel to the west of it. On the east side of Eighth Street the gutters were overflowing, while across the way dust was blowing. This rain soon hecame general, however, over the city and much of the State, and proved a boon in this locality by lowering the temperature several degrees. grees.
